Visit to La Chaussée St Victor

Another wonderful visit took place over the May bank holiday weekend. The weather started out in an unco-operative mood but when it realised who it was dealing with it bucked it's ideas up.

We started with a free day with hosts which after a long tiring journey was a relaxing way to begin the visit. Other highlights included a visit to a 12th century monastery with a picnic in the grounds and a visit of the medieval city of Loches.

We also had a boat ride on the Briare canal, which has the longest canal bridge in the world, with a delicious lunch on board.

On the last day we had a barbecue in glorious sunshine. Our hosts challenged us to a tournament of Boule, their national sport, for the pig. Unsurprisingly we lost the competition so the pig will have to spend another year over the channel. The official dinner was in a lovely manor house which had been renovated and turned into a hotel.

Many thanks to our French friends for such a marvellous visit. Also thanks to Chenery's coaches and to Shaun our driver for a very comfortable journey.
